WHY ATTEND THIS PROGRAM?

An examination of the range of choices and decisions made by individuals, communities and nations during the Holocaust is a powerful lens through which to study this period of history. This approach encourages deep critical thinking and analysis, and also serves as a catalyst to compel students to work toward making change in their own lives and the larger society.

This learning opportunity examines the consequences of inaction and highlights the courage and difficult choices of those who rescued and resisted during the Holocaust. Educators will gain the tools to support students to implement an action-oriented project influenced by the lessons of this history.

PROGRAM GOALS

Through this program, educators will:

- 1 Understand how bystander and upstander roles manifested themselves during the Holocaust, on an individual, civic, community, and national level.
- 2 Access tools and resources that teach about the Holocaust through the lens of choices and acts of complicity, and that inspire students to seek change.
- 3 Explore the motivations of groups and individuals to better understand how one can shift from a bystander role to an upstander role.
- 4 Connect case studies on choices and complicity during the Holocaust to today and foster positive student action in their schools and communities. literacy and propaganda.

WHAT IS ECHOES & REFLECTIONS?

Echoes & Reflections is the premier source for Holocaust educational materials and dynamic content, empowering teachers and students with the insight needed to question the past and foresight to impact the future. We partner with educators to support them, foster confidence, and amplify their skills and resources to teach about the Holocaust in a comprehensive and meaningful way.

A joint program of ADL, USC Shoah Foundation, and Yad Vashem
